Some say life is for the dogs. So in that regards, President Barack Obama has used taxpayers' money to pay the salary of a dog trainer , who doesn't even work full-time, but is just on retainer in case of so-called 'dog-training' emergencies. The part-time dog trainer generates $102,000 of yearly income.

Interesting facts about Obama were compiled by Rich Carroll, who had written an article entitled, 'Barack Obama's 32 Month Report Card.' He obtained information by citing from U.S. Energy Information, Wall Street Journal, Bureau of Labor Statistics, Standard & Poor's Case Schiller, Federal Reserve, US Treasury, and Heritage Foundation.
