The Dallas Blog would like to pay special tribute to Ezra Levant, an informed columnist working for the 'Fair and Balanced' Toronto Sun. Readers have explained that we unfairly called Mr. Levant, an environmentalist. Well, upon closer examination, it appears that our readers have good reason to feel outraged. Mr. Levant publishes outstanding commentaries and frequently criticizes Leftists in Canada. He even celebrates Earth Day by cutting down trees.

Hence, I, Tom McGregor, wish to apologize for the misunderstanding. The Dallas Blog has received numerous emails and comments to praise the good name of Mr. Levant, and we must recognize the authenticity of their claims. The Dallas Blog hopes you can learn more about Ezra Levant, a True Canadian hero, according to our readers. To view the Ezra Levant Toronto Sun, link here:Tmcgregordallas@yahoo.com
