President Barack Obama has declared war on Fanta. He issued an executive order to forbid Democrats, who are attending the Democratic National Convention in Charlotte, North Carolina, from drinking Fanta. Apparently, only Republicans in Charlotte can drink Fanta during the DNC. The Department of Homeland Security appears to have enforced the Fanta ban on Democrats. Some fear the ban could spark illegal activities, such as bootlegging Fanta, or Democrats posing as Republicans to drink the so-called illegal beverage.
