

Soros Wants to Expel Germany from EU

Contributed by Tom McGregor
Sun, Sep 9, 2012, 08:41 PM

Oil Tycoon George Soros is hoping to profit from his investments of selling the euro currency short, as well as buying gold. He's now pushing for Germany to depart from the European Union.

According to the BBC News, "international financier George Soros has called for Germany to "lead or leave the euro" days before a crucial ruling on the eurozone's bailout fund by Germany's constitutional court."

Soros claims that the eurozone could reach 5% economic growth if it abandons German-backed austerity measures and endorse higher inflation measures.

As reported by the BBC, "he also backed a new European Fiscal Authority financed by VAT receipts to oversee eurozone government finances."

Soros wrote in the New York Review of Books, in an article published on Monday that Germany should "exit the currency."

To read the entire article from the BBC News, link here:Tmcgregordallas@yahoo.com